Welcome from the Founder & President

To trustees, members, partners, donors and volunteers,

LightAce Global Foundation was established to carry compassion into places of acute need, while building the dignity, skills and institutions that make recovery lasting. This draft constitution sets out the governance framework intended to keep that mission accountable.

Our work is faith-driven and compassion-led, yet relief is extended to all people without coercion or condition. We commit to integrity, transparent stewardship, safeguarding and respectful partnership with communities.

This document is circulated for legal and board review. It becomes effective only after approval, execution and any required registration under applicable law.

With gratitude and resolve,

Christopher O.G. Aloysius
Founder & President

Constitution of LightAce Global Foundation

Review draft for legal counsel, founders and the Board · 26 November 2026

1. Name and status

The organisation is LightAce Global Foundation, the humanitarian and non-profit division associated with LightAce™ Global Incorporated. Its precise legal form, registered name, registration number and registered office shall be inserted after verification. Its income and property shall be applied solely to its objects.

2. Vision and mission

Vision: a world in which no person is left behind by disaster, displacement, poverty or isolation. Mission: to deliver relief, rehabilitation, justice and opportunity through professionally managed, accountable humanitarian programmes, while respecting faith expression and non-coercion.

3. Objects

To provide humanitarian relief; support counselling, care, rehabilitation and reintegration; promote literacy, education and practical skills; conduct and fund ethical research on migration, statelessness and legal identity; develop community infrastructure; and collaborate lawfully with communities and institutions.

4. Powers

Subject to law and Board approval, the Foundation may receive donations and grants, open segregated accounts, contract, employ staff, engage volunteers, hold property, publish materials, establish programmes, enter partnerships, borrow prudently and do anything lawfully incidental to its objects.

5. Non-profit and assets

No income or property shall be distributed to members, trustees, directors or officers except reasonable remuneration for services rendered and reimbursement of properly incurred expenses. Charitable funds remain separate from affiliated commercial activities.

6. Membership

Membership, if adopted, shall be by Board admission under a written policy. Members shall support the objects and comply with this constitution. Membership may end by resignation, death, dissolution or removal after a fair process.

7. Board of Trustees / Directors

The Foundation shall be governed by a Board of at least three natural persons, with a majority independent where legally practicable. The Founder & President may serve as Chair or ex officio trustee subject to conflict safeguards.

8. Duties and conflicts

Board members shall act in good faith, with care, skill and diligence, in the Foundation’s best interests. Conflicts shall be declared, recorded and managed; conflicted persons shall not vote on affected matters.

9. Meetings and decisions

The Board shall meet at least quarterly. Quorum shall be a majority of serving members unless law requires otherwise. Decisions require a majority vote. Minutes shall be kept. Electronic meetings and written resolutions are permitted when properly recorded.

10. Officers and committees

The Board may appoint a President, Treasurer, Secretary, Executive Director and committees including Finance & Audit, Programmes, Safeguarding and Research Ethics. Delegations shall be written, limited and reported.

11. Finance and audit

The Foundation shall keep proper records, use segregated accounts, adopt dual payment authorisation, approve annual budgets, obtain independent review or audit as required, and publish an annual report.

12. Donations and restricted funds

Donations shall be receipted accurately. Restricted funds shall be used only for their stated purpose unless the donor consents or law permits reallocation. Donations creating unlawful advantage or reputational risk may be declined.

13. Safeguarding and integrity

The Foundation adopts zero tolerance for abuse, exploitation, harassment, fraud and corruption, and shall maintain safeguarding, whistleblowing, anti-fraud, data protection and complaints policies.

14. Dignity and non-coercion

Relief shall be offered according to need and freely to all persons, never conditional on belief, participation or conversion. Imagery and stories shall respect consent, privacy and dignity.

15. Research and publications

Research shall follow ethical review, informed consent where applicable, data protection and transparent methodology. Publications shall distinguish verified results, proposals and concepts.

16. Partnerships

Partnerships shall be documented with roles, funding controls, safeguarding commitments and communication limits. No partnership or endorsement may be represented publicly until confirmed in writing.

17. Indemnity and insurance

To the extent lawful, the Foundation may indemnify Board members, officers, staff and volunteers acting in good faith within authority, excluding fraud, dishonesty, wilful misconduct or gross negligence.

18. Amendment

This constitution may be amended by a two-thirds Board resolution after reasonable notice, with any member or regulatory approval required by law, preserving its non-profit nature and objects.

19. Dissolution

On dissolution, remaining assets after liabilities shall transfer to one or more lawful non-profit organisations with similar objects. Assets shall not be distributed for private benefit.

20. Adoption

This draft is not adopted, executed or registered by publication or download. Formal adoption requires authorised signatures, dated resolutions and regulatory filings where required.
